Highest Average Score

In the Dairy Class:

United States

average for all the exhibits, 95 4-10.

DeLaval

average for all the exhibits, 94 7-10.

In the Creamery Class:

United States

average for all the exhibits, 95 6-10.

DeLaval

PAGEANT OF MISSIONS

Influence of Christianity in Orient Exemplified

Company of 140 Gave Fine Entertainment in Auditorium—Proceeds for Benefit of Associated Charities.

Christianity's influence upon the women and children of the Orient was strikingly illustrated in the Auditorium Wednesday evening by a "Pageant of Missions," given under the auspices of the Women's Foreign Missionary societies of the Brattleboro churches. A company of 140 persons in a great variety of costumes characteristic of the nationalities which they represented and to whom the Christian missionaries are carrying the gospel in word and deed, impersonated different types of women and children in their contact with the American missionaries, and in acting, dialogue and music showed the progress that is being made in leading women and children out of superstition and darkness into intelligence and light. The pageant was produced for the benefit of the Associated Charities of this town, whose treasury has sustained an unusual drain and was in need of replenishing. Just how much was needed is not known, but the amount will be more than was anticipated, because the attendance was unexpectedly large. Both the main floor and the balcony were crowded, which was very gratifying to all interested in the production. A vast amount of detail work was involved, and the burden of the pageant rested upon Miss Florence M. Hemenway, who met the requirements with characteristic resourcefulness. The work of all who participated was of high order of merit and left a decidedly favorable and pleasing impression. The singing was directed by Fred C. Adams and Lettinger's orchestra delightfully rendered a varied program.

Eight scenes were given, the first of which was entitled, "Pilgrims of the Night." It consisted of a processional of women of all nations, who 300 years ago had not heard the first note of the song of redemption and release for the souls of women. There were women of China with bound feet, widows and little wives of India, black-veiled Moslem women, Buddhists from Burma and Siam, Japanese, Turkish and African women. Silently, sadly, and with no sound of music, they plodded wearily on, their wide variety of costumes forming a pretty scene. Then came the angelic heralds of the dawn with white wings and flowing robes sang the hymn, "Hark! hark, my soul," which was the inspiration of the scene. The pilgrims paused to listen and as the angels drew near lifted their heads and followed the messengers of peace.

Christianity in India was the title of the second scene, in which a missionary, impersonated by Mrs. C. H. Thompson, and her Bible woman, Miss Helen Hopkins, went to talk to the women of a jungle village. The missionary was interrupted frequently with ignorant questions. After singing a hymn the two passed on to other villages.

Scene three was outside a Chinese hospital, showing patients for dispensary treatment. The doctor, Miss Mary E. Schumacher, superintendent of the Memorial hospital, performed several operations, assisted by the nurse, Miss Mary L. Wakefield, senior nurse, at the hospital, and the Bible woman, Miss Cora Lacombe. The operations furnished pleasing entertainment, particularly when patients' aching teeth were extracted. This scene ended with the singing of "We may not climb the heavenly steep" by chorus and audience.

SPORTING.

"Kid" Stark Home from the Army.

Merrill "Kid" Stark, whose term of enlistment in the regular army expired Feb. 16, has returned to the home of his father, George Stark, of 21 Cedar street and is assisting his father in lumbering operations. He is making an effort to arouse enthusiasm for an athletic club and is training preparatory to a boxing bout with Kid Williams of Baltimore May 4. Stark's home formerly was in Jamaica, the family moving to this town about five years ago. While working in Belknap Falls he enlisted at a recruiting station there Feb. 16, 1909, and was sent to Fort Slocum, N. Y., where he served three months in the 5th recruiting company. From there he went to Fort Michie, N. Y., joining the 14th company of coast artillery. Later he was transferred to the hospital corps, in which he remained until the expiration of his term. Last April he went to Fort Sam Houston, Texas, to attend the maneuvers. Through his manager, Harold Carter of Ritter, S. C., he challenges any boxer at his weight, 134 pounds. A communication signed "Fighting F. J. E." has been received challenging Stark for any number of rounds on a winner-take-all basis. The war claims the lightweight amateur championship of Baltimore.

Stark hopes to form an athletic club in town and he reports receiving encouragement for the project from all sides. He believes the club could do a good work in encouraging physical culture among young men and boys and that there would be great interest in athletic events promoted under the club's supervision.

Hanson vs. Kilonis Tuesday Night.

Fritz Hanson, the little giant, and Kilonis, who claims the championship of Greece, will wrestle in the Auditorium Tuesday evening. When Hanson threw the Greek twice out of three times three weeks ago the man from Manchester asked for another chance with the toe hold barred and promised to weigh in at 155 pounds in the middleweight limit. Fritz agreed last week to meet the Greek on these terms, but later Kilonis wanted to weigh in at 161 pounds. The match had been announced and Hanson agreed to meet him at that weight and bar the toe hold. Hanson is now down to about 150 pounds and will have a handicap of about 10 pounds to overcome. Kilonis is by far the best wrestler that has been pitted here against the local man and the followers of the game like his style of wrestling. There will be some good preliminaries. It is expected that "Dutchy" Graves, the champion paperweight wrestler of Brattleboro, will try to throw a boy several pounds heavier, although the management is finding it hard to get a lad willing to tackle the local newboy.

Fritz Hanson wrestled Charles "Yankee" Rogers in Greenfield Monday night and lost the first fall in nine minutes. The second and third came to him in less than 50 minutes. Tuesday evening he wrestled Arthur Brigham in Hartford. Fritz had to weigh in at 151 or forfeit $100. He kept the money. He lost the first fall in 10 minutes, won the second in 40 minutes and the third in six minutes. He returned to this town Wednesday and went to Claremont yesterday. John Kilonis who will wrestle here against Hanson next Tuesday is now champion middleweight wrestler of England, winning the title and a belt from Bob Berry of Birmingham, in Pawtucket, R. I., Tuesday evening. The men wrestled for the title, Berry's belt, which he won in Birmingham, and a side bet of $300.
